

This petition should be rejected. Further, the agency should adopt a rule respecting state laws against unnecessary glare such as those which mandate that high beams not be used when following or approaching another vehicle within a specified distance. The federal processing on this subject has made enforcement of such laws difficult and encouraged many drivers to drive with excessively brights lights at all times. It's time for the government to restore sanity to driving by respecting the traditional rules of the road.